In discussing our vision as the future of the work, we need to focus on the values that drive our work and the values that we hold in common. These values provide the foundation for our work and guide our actions. In this way, we can create a future that is based on values that are meaningful to us, and that we can all be proud of.

In order to achieve this vision, we need to be aware of our values and to make conscious choices that align with those values. We need to be open to new ideas and to be willing to challenge ourselves and our assumptions. We need to be committed to the work that we do and to be willing to put in the effort to make it successful. Finally, we need to be resilient in the face of challenges and to be open to learning from our mistakes.

In conclusion, our vision as the future of the work is based on values that we hold in common, and that we need to be aware of in order to achieve this vision. By being open to new ideas, willing to challenge ourselves and our assumptions, and committed to the work that we do, we can create a future that is based on values that are meaningful to us, and that we can all be proud of.
